

EASTERN EARLY MUSIC FORUM EPIPHANY PARTY Epiphaniam Canamus!

Saturday 6th January, 2018

10.30-17.00

Blyburgate Hall, Blyburgate

Beccles, NR34 9TF

directed by

Philip Thorby

Join us as we sing – and play – in celebration of Epiphany. Lassus tells the story of Epiphany according to S Matthew in “Cum Natus Esset Jesus”; Rex Melchior is invoked (along with Caspar and Balthazar) by Palestrina; their gifts are compared to three miracles in Curtio Valcampi’s “Tribus Miraculis”; and Nicolle des Celliers de Hesdin is the composer of the motet which (almost!) gives our musical feast its title: “Canamus Domino Epiphaniam Gloriosam”.

Open to all voices and players of renaissance wind and strings (pitch A440).

As last year, we are once again in the lovely Blyburgate Hall, Beccles. It has its own small car park, a large hall and separate kitchen room. There will be a ‘bring a dish’ lunch and the booking fee is cheaper if you do this. Please bring a dish that might feed about 3-4 people. There is only one small oven so cold food is much easier. Unfortunately special diets cannot be catered for but there will be some vegetarian food.

The cost is £20 for Early Music Forum members or £16 for members who bring a dish (and £22 for non-members or £18 for dish-bringing-non-members).

I look forward to seeing you all in January, and before that I hope you enjoy a very merry Christmas.

Please note that bookings are made entirely on a first come, first serve basis. On receipt of your payment and booking form your place will be reserved, so please apply early to avoid disappointment. Your place will not be confirmed but if the course is oversubscribed you will be contacted.

IMPORTANT: Please make sure your cheque is made payable to The Eastern Early Music Forum or EEMF and send it with your completed application form to – EEMF, 62 Constable Road, IPSWICH, Suffolk, IP4 2UZ
