

EASTERN EARLY MUSIC FORUM

*Interested in Early Music?
Join us!*

The Eastern Early Music Forum exists in the East Anglian area to promote interest in medieval, renaissance and baroque music, roughly of the time of Bach and before; to provide an information exchange; and to organize opportunities for members to participate in music-making. EEMF has informal links with other Early Music Fora throughout the country and is affiliated to the National Early Music Association.

A newsletter is published at least three times a year; this contains invitations to EEMF workshops, as well as members' letters and articles; reviews of events organized by this Forum and others; reviews of concerts, CDs and books, and notices of forthcoming events, courses, and concerts by EEMF members.

Our practical workshops are the principal way in which we meet and make music together. We organize several workshops each year, tutored by professional musicians in various Early Music spheres, and held in different parts of the region.

The Forum welcomes as members singers, players, dancers, and those with more general or non-participatory interests. No minimum standard is required for most workshops: join in at whatever level you can. All ages are welcome.

The membership subscription is just £6, which covers the calendar year, January - December. New members of any age are welcome - but please note that 'Early' refers to the periods of the music, not to the age of participants! You can join us by completing the form attached. It is very helpful if you can also complete the Banker's Order (Standing Order) form, which will save you the job of sending us a cheque each year. We look forward to welcoming you to the Forum.
